

Community Meeting

You're invited! Join Philadelphia Water and the Wharton Square Community to provide input on an upcoming construction project in your neighborhood.

Philadelphia Water has selected Wharton Square and many streets in your neighborhood for a Green City, Clean Waters project. This means we'll be planting more trees and plants in this area to soak up stormwater when it rains. Join us to learn more and provide feedback on the plans. Refreshments will be served.

Date: Thursday, October 15th
(rain or shine)

Time: 6:00 PM – 7:00 PM

Meeting Location:
Wharton Square Recreation Center
(23rd and Wharton)

This project is part of Philadelphia's Green City, Clean Waters program which works to improve the health of our local rivers. By planting trees and plants that soak up water when it rains, and by storing rain water underground, we can help keep the Schuylkill River clean.
